Robbery With Peculiar Features—Pay Envelopes Help Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign—Stores to Close During Time of Chief Bransfield's Funeral Services.

Judge George T. Brown of the superior court has sent to the clerk of the superior court for Washington county decision in the case of Elizabeth Richmond against Samuel S. Eldred, which is an appeal from a decision of the town council of South Kingstown, sitting as a court of probate. The case was brought by Dixon & Bathin, for Mrs. Richmond, and Frederick C. Olney appeared for respondent, with hearing before the court, without jury. Petition was made the probate court for the removal of Mr. Eldred as administrator as he refused and neglected to take action to recover certain shares of stock transferred by Joshua C. Card, deceased intestate, to his sister, Mrs. Knowles, five days before his death as a gift to his sister, on the ground that he was incapable at the time of making his affairs. Removal was also asked for on the ground that the administrator, who is son-in-law of respondent, had failed to make annual report of the estate to the probate court during the past four years. Judge Brown states that it does not appear that the administrator had been cited by the probate court to render an account, therefore his neglect in that regard does not constitute dereliction of duty, and is not cause for removal. Mrs. Knowles claims the stock by virtue of the gift transferred to her by her brother, Mr. Card, five days before his death. The administrator, recognizing the gift as valid, refused to bring action against his mother-in-law to recover the stock, at the request of the sister of Mrs. Knowles and of the deceased, although the costs of the proceedings would be paid by Mrs. Richmond, who is an heir-at-law, and who claimed that at the time of transfer her brother was incapable of comprehending the nature of the act.

Judge Brown finds that the petitioner, who is an heir-at-law of deceased, was entitled to have the validity of the gift determined by legal proceedings, that they have done all that can be reasonably expected of them to induce the administrator to commence proceedings, and that by his refusal to act in the matter he is an unsuitable person to be administrator and he ought to be removed. A decree was entered reversing the decision of the court of probate of South Kingstown, as applied for, and removing the respondent from the trust of administrator of the estate of deceased; also remitting the case to the probate court with direction to proceed and appoint an administrator in accordance with the prayer of the petitioners.

Peculiar circumstances have developed in connection with the alleged robbery at the Gillickson boarding-house last Saturday night. The trunk of two of the boarders were broken into and their contents strewn about the rooms, but, according to the report to Deputy Chief Brown, all that was taken was $20 of the hard-earned cash of Joseph Jenzin, whose pay envelope indicated that he received $23.50 a week. It was alleged that the money was in pay envelopes and was taken from the trunk tray.

Deputy Chief Brown believes that Mr. Jenzin did not lose his cash, but if he did, the alleged thief paid the money back with $20 interest for a week's loan of $40. Mr. Jenzin found $50 in his trunk since the alleged robbery and this was deposited Friday in a local bank, and about July 1, the sum of $50 was deposited in his credit. In the ten weeks from July 1, and with a week's board paid in advance, it would have been possible for Mr. Jenzin to have saved $90 for banking, which, of course, would have been impossible if he had been robbed of $70 in the interim. Deputy Chief Brown has eliminated the Main street boarding house robbery from his list.

An active campaign has been commenced by the board of the benefit fund of the Western Baptist Convention for Ministers and Missionaries, to secure $200,000 for this on or before Christmas day. Rev. E. T. Tomlinson of Elizabeth, N. J., has been elected executive secretary, and will supervise the campaign. Dr. Tomlinson was for twenty-three years pastor of the Central Baptist church in Elizabeth and is the author of many popular historical books for young people and for many years an active member of the board of managers of the Home Missionary society. He is a graduate of the Western high school and the son of a former pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church in Westerly.

Rev. A. E. Scoville and Mrs. Scoville, formerly Miss Susie Green of Westerly, have returned to their home in Melrose, Mass., from two months' trip abroad. While in England, Rev. Mr. Scoville preached at Hampstead, Bromsbury, London, Canterbury, Nottingham, Norwich and Liverpool. He was in the midst of the disturbance and observed the conditions of social and industrial unrest with interest.

Estimates have been submitted by local granite manufacturers for a drinking fountain of Westerly granite for Watch Hill, but bidders for the work will not be confined to Westerly granite men. The fountain is to be erected through the efforts of the Watch Hill Improvement society.

Sample pay envelopes containing instructive information dealing with tuberculosis were sent to the larger factories of the state Thursday by the Rhode Island Anti-Tuberculosis association. The envelope is now in use in the Lorraine mills in Pawcatuck, and is weekly teaching some important lesson touching upon this disease.

Washing the Sweater.
About this time the snowy white sweater purchased at the beginning of the summer is beginning to look a bit grimy and gray. It is much better to wash the sweater two or three times during a season than to allow it to become so soiled that a strenuous rubbing will be necessary to make it white again.

Make a strong solution of pure white soap and warm water, to which a little borax has been added, and soak the sweater up and down in this. Do not use washing soda, as this turns the wool yellow, and do not lift the sweater too high out of the water, the weight of which may drag the garment out of shape. The rinsing is most important. Five rinsings in clear water are not too many. Six or eight will be better still. Do not attempt to wring or twist the garment. Squeeze out all the water you can; wrap the sweater in a towel; place it on the floor and dance up and down on it until all the excess of water is out. Now spread it out flat on a clean sheet in the sun and let it dry. It will be beautifully soft, white and fleecy and will not have stretched out of shape.

MYSTIC

Bridge at County Club—Epworth League Work Planned—First Trial Trip on Old Mystic Track.

Friday afternoon at the Mystic Country club bridge whist was played, after which refreshments were served. Those who served on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Haley, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Dennison, Miss Lillian Mallory.

Epworth League Committee Meets.
The social department of the Epworth league held an interesting session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroder on Greenmanville avenue on Friday evening. Sapper was served at 6 o'clock, and the evening was spent in planning out the work of the league for the coming winter, after which musical selections were rendered.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Roswick, Miss Violet Postwick, Mrs. Otis Abell, Miss Ruth Abell, Mrs. Amos Hancock, Mrs. Alonzo Collins, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brooks, Mrs. Nellie Brooks, Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Miss Mabel Denman.

First Trolley Car.
It was a great surprise to the people from Broadway up to Old Mystic to see on Friday morning at 9 o'clock a trolley car run the first trolley car over the line. The car started at the monument and went as far as the turn in the road near the Holland place, the old Mystic, this being as far as the line had been fixed. It
